THE MIDDLEBURY CAMPUS

VOL. XI. THE MIDDLEBURY CAMPUS, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 2, 1915. No. 9.

TO PLAY WILLIAMS NEXT SATURDAY

Will Probably Be Hardest Game of the Season.

Middlebury will meet Williams at Williamstown, Mass., next Saturday in what will probably be one of the hardest games of the season. Williams has had a fairly satisfying season to date, having won from Yale and Princeton, and showing in these games an ability to use considerable head work. Capt. Toolan and Young have been showing up to the best advantage for the Purple, and have been well supported by Clark, Swain, Statler and Parsons. Seibert, veteran first baseman, who has been out of the game for the season on account of an injury to his knee, will doubtless be back in time to play in the Middlebury game. Following is the line-up and probable batting order: Capt. Toolan cf., Statler lf., Clark ss., Swain 3b., Parsons 2b., Michler rf., Powell c., Brumbaugh 1b., Young or Bowen p.

The Williams schedule so far this season reads:

SPLIT EVEN ON TRIP.

MacLaughlin Wins Over Hamilton and Norwich but Infield Errors and Weakened Pitching Force Lose Colgate and Union Games.

In an eleventh inning rally Middlebury took the first game of the New York trip of last week from Hamilton in one of the most interesting games of the season.

The game was uneventful until the fourth, when Hamilton made the first score. McLouth started things with a double, W. Gow grounded to Loder, Cavanaugh got a single, advancing McLouth, the latter scoring on an error at home. Middlebury retaliated, however, when she came to bat in the next inning, Bartlett and Dewhirst getting singles and advancing on an error at second; Lamere, bunting successfully, filled the bases. Haskins and Aylward each hit safely, bringing in respectively Bartlett and Dewhirst. Lamere went out at third and Robinson and Pollard retired the side by fanning. Hamilton evened up the score in the sixth. With two men down Cavanaugh and Miller hit safely, advancing on errors by Haskins and Jones, and Cavanaugh scoring a moment later on Schwartz's hit. The game continued thus until the tenth, without a change in the score. In the eleventh, with one down, M. Gow reached first on an error at second, Behan went down, MacLaughlin to Loder, Erhardt and McLouth hit safely, scoring M. Gow. W. Gow retired the side by grounding to Jones. Middlebury came to bat with a determination to do or die. Loder and Bartlett hit safely, advancing on Dewhirst's hit, and scoring on a wild pitch. Lamere, Haskins, MacLaughlin and Robinson all got hits and scored, Pollard, Jones and Loder retiring the side, the score standing 9-3. MacLaughlin pitched a nice game for Middlebury, as did Schwartz for Hamilton, each striking out ten. Errors were frequent on Middlebury's part.

Middlebury had her own way with Norwich Memorial Day in a loosely played game which after the first inning was rather one-sided. The final score was 17 to 1 in favor of the college team. The cadets got their only run in the first while Middlebury started strongly in the second and got 8 runs and sprinkled the other nine through the rest of the game. Ogsden passed MacLaughlin in the second. Error by Rogers filled the bases and Ogsden then hit Pollard forcing in the first run. Loder then connected for a single, scoring Robinson and Bartlett. An error by Smith again filled the bases. Dewhirst flied out to right field. Lamere got in with a hit to center and Haskins made first on a weak one which was played to the plate, catching Loder.

With three men on bases MacLaughlin then came to the plate and cleaned the bases on a three-bagger, he himself coming in when the throw to third went wild. Robinson got by on an error by Jacobs only to get in the way of Bartlett's hit, ending the first of the second. Well bunched hits in the third, fifth and ninth scored the rest of the runs for Middlebury. Norwich's only run was scored by Gardner who got second on an error by Pollard and a wild throw to first and was brought in by Rogers' two-bagger. Norwich livened up for a time in the seventh and eighth when she made her two double plays but on the whole the playing was sluggish. The score:

GOV. McCULLOUGH DEAD

Donor of College Gymnasium and Trustee Dies at New York.

John G. McCullough, former governor of Vermont and trustee of Middlebury College, as well as the donor of the McCullough Gymnasium, died at his New York home May 29.

Governor McCullough was born at Newark, Del., September 16, 1835, the son of Alexander and Rebecca (Griffith) McCullough. He was graduated from Delaware College with the highest honors of his class. Selecting the profession of law, he studied in a Philadelphia office and was graduated from the law school of the University of Pennsylvania in 1859. He had barely begun practice in Philadelphia when the state of his health eompelled a change of climate. Sailing for California he was admitted to the bar of that State at Sacramento in 1860. He removed in the same year to Mariposa, where he opened an office and entered the campaign to hold the State in the Union during the Civil War. In the following year he was elected to the State Legislature and in the year after that to the Senate.

He was elected attorney-general and upon the completion of his term he settled in San Francisco. In 1873 he moved to North Bennington, Vt., and became interested in banking and railroads. For eight years he was vice-president of the Panama Railroad company and for six years he was its president. In 1884 he became a director of the Erie railroad and after the panic of 1893 he was appointed receiver of that railroad. He was president of the Chicago and Erie railroad for ten years and of the Bennington and Rutland for 15 years.

In recent years he transferred many of his directorships to his son, Hall P. McCullough, but was at the time of his death on the boards of the New York Security and Trust company, the Bank of New York, the Fidelity and Casualty company, the American Trading company of New York, the National Life Insurance com any, the New York and New Jersey City Tunnel Railroad company, the Santa Fe railroad, the Lackawana Steel company and other corporations. Since 1904 he has been a trustee of the University of Vermont and Middlebury College, which institutions conferred upon him the honorary degree of doctor of laws, as did Norwich University in 1905.

He was active in Republican politics in Vermont and was elected governor in 1902. He was delegate to the national conventions which nominated Garfield, Harrison and McKinley.

He married in 1871 Eliza Hall Park, daughter of Trenor W. Park, formerly president of the Panama Railroad company. She survives him, together with one son, Hall Park McCullough, and three daughters, Mrs. Thornton W. Turner of North Bennington, Miss Ella S. McCullough and Miss Esther M. McCullough.

The funeral was held at his late home in North Bennington this afternoon, President Thomas officiating.

EDITORIAL.

The Campus.

With the election of the new CAMPUS Board, as announced in another column, the 1915 Board tenders its resignation with this issue, and passes on the work of quenching the public thirst for Middlebury news to fresh blood.

It has been the endeavor of the 1915 Board to create a distinctive type of college paper; a type more nearly in the Middlebury spirit; which would eliminate all but helpful criticism and direct its work only along the lines which seem most helpful to the College.

This work has been carried out along several lines. It has been the endeavor of the Board, first, to eliminate the "crabbing" spirit, which influences most college papers, and for which we would criticise even such journals as the Harvard Crimson. Secondly, it has been the endeavor of the Board to report athletic contests in as fair and accurate a manner as possible, giving credit where deserved, but only where deserved. It is a fair criticism to say of most "prep" school papers, and many college publications, that as much harm is done by an over-estimation of the team's ability, whatever team that may be, as by a failure to recognize the efforts and abilities of the home team men. Thirdly, the Board has tried to be fair to the individual men regardless of fraternal or other affiliations. Aside from the justice of this course, we believe that the usefulness of such an organ as the CAMPUS lies in this policy, and we furthermore believe that when the CAMPUS can have the respect, and, to a degree, the fear of the student body, the more useful will it become in the eradication of the corrupt athletics which have at times brought dishonor and disgrace to Middlebury. Fourthly, the Board has tried to eliminate all but "live" copy from the CAMPUS columns.

Based upon the experiences of the previous year, the CAMPUS Board has changed its form somewhat for next year. A division of responsibility has been the purpose of the change, and hereafter an Athletic Editor, Student-Body Editor and an Alumni Editor from each college will take charge of their particular branches of work. This will not only assist in a specializing of work, but a better application of the varying talent in the Board. The athletic reporter, for example, will no longer be obliged to report dramatic or social events.

The College has also responded to the needs of the CAMPUS, and it is expected that the new Board will have the advantage of an office, suitably equipped with writing material, catalogues, tyye-writers, etc., on the hill.

The CAMPUS Board wishes to express its gratitude to the many thoughtful readers who have taken the trouble to express their appreciation, at various times during the year, of the efforts of those working on the paper. The following excerpt, taken from a letter from a faculty-alumnus, does much to repay the hours of labor and midnight oil spent on the CAMPUS:

"May I take this opportunity to express to you my admiration for the excellent paper which you people have been putting out. One can hardly realize that this is the same college which some of us knew only four years ago. The CAMPUS is not only a mirror of the new life; in the new vigor which it has taken on, it has itself done much to help in the great forward drive which Middlebury is making. You and your Board are to be highly congratulated."

The same writer makes as well an excellent suggestion:

"I am glad to know that a file is being kept of the new CAMPUS. When I attempted to run down some facts about Middlebury's past some two years ago, it was not possible to obtain at the Library a full file of the CAMPUS even of later years. A little advertising in the CAMPUS would undoubtedly bring in from alumni and friends copies which taken together would constitute a complete file, a most desirable possession for the College Library."

This is part of the work which the new Board will undertake, and for which they would be grateful for help from alumni.

The business management of the Board is to be highly congratulated for the efficiency with which the business end of the paper has been conducted. A large sum has been cut from the debt under which the CAMPUS had fallen, and the paper placed on a sound basis for future work. Mr. Dade has devoted a great deal of time and energy to this end.

LOSE TO COLGATE AND UNION.

In her second game on last week's trip, Middlebury lost in a loose game to Colgate, after trimming the Colgate team in a 6-inning game played at Middlebury, 5-3. The score of the second game was 17-3. Middlebury started with Crippen in the box, but Crippen was hit freely and lasted but four innings, being replaced by Aylward. Aylward, however, was suffering from a dislocated ligament, and although holding Colgate to no-hits, no-runs, for two innings, in the seventh he was retired in favor of Robinson. Colgate scored in every inning but the second, fifth and sixth, while Middlebury scored in the fourth and fifth. Reid's home run and Robinson's triple, as well as VanAlstyne's sensational one-hand catch of Haskins' fly in the fifth, were features of the game.

On Saturday Middlebury lost her third game, to Union College at Schenectady, N. Y. From Union's viewpoint it looked for awhile as if the game was going to be a beautiful chance to fatten batting averages, and it was a shut out as far as Middlebury was concerned. Errors were more than numerous in the infield, which coupled with the heavy butting of Union made the game a one-sided affair. Although Union got but eight hits, four of them were two-baggers or better.

McLaughlin started the game and allowed two hits in the first two innings, a series of six errors however on the part of Middlebury's infield let in six runs. McLaughlin retired in favor of Crippen from whom Union tallied four runs from five hits. Hurmer of Union allowed but seven hits in a nicely pitched game.

Honors for Charles W. Mulcahy.

Many friends of Charles W. Mulcahy, who graduated from Middlebury College in 1912 will be pleased to read of the high distinction he has won at the Boston University Law School. The Burlington Free Press yesterday contained the following "special" from Boston:

"The highest general average work for the Boston University Law School course obtained by any student in the last ten years has been achieved by Charles William Mulcahy of Hardwick, Vt., it was announced today by Dean Homer Albers.

"Mr. Mulcahy's mark was 94.5. He completed the three years' course in two years, and in that period succeeded last December in passing the examination admitting him to practice in Massachusetts.

"Also he is the winner of the Ordronaux prize of $75, devised from a fund of $200 bequeathed by Dr. John Ordronaux, a former lecturer of the school—an award 'not only for examination marks, but also for work done in class and court rooms, and for general character and conduct.'

"In several courses Mr. Mulcahy earned the mark of 100. The most noteworthy of these was "Conflict of Laws,' wherein no student was ever before in the history of the school known to reach such a grade.

"The only times this Vermont boy's record has ever been surpassed was by two men now teaching at the school—Prof. Frank L. Simpson in 1898 and Prof. Chandler M. Wood in 1905. The general average of each was 95.5.

"Mr. Mulcahy was born in Johnson, Vt., in 1891, the son of Mrs. Carrie Mulcahy. For the last fifteen years Hardwick, where he is a member of Bronson Council, K. of C,, has been his home.

"After four years at Middlebury College he was graduated with honors in 1912. In his junior year he was president of his class. For three years he was a third baseman and an outfielder on the baseball nine. He was also a member of the Chi Psi fraternity.

"For one year after graduation he was employed in the law office in Hardwick of Dutton & Mulcahy, the latter being a brother, Bernard J. Mulcahy, who was graduated from the Boston University Law School with honors in 1909.

"Probably Mr. Mulcahy will practice law in Boston, but he is undecided. At the law school he was not looked upon as a 'grind', the term applied to a student who takes no interest in anything except his books and his struggle for high marks. He is exceedingly popular, but reticent by nature. He is a member there of the Phi Delta Phi, a legal fraternity with branches throughout the country."

Why Not a Tennis Court?

In order to stimulate interest in tennis, possibly with a view to developing teams for intercollegiate contests, President Thomas has decided that the College will assume responsibility for the maintenance of the grounds of the men's courts. This will guarantee the courts being in first class shape, which the students greatly appreciate. Judge Weeks has had the grounds put in condition, by far the best they have ever been, and Manag r Vaughn now has them supplied with tape and nets ready for use. Because of the delay in opening the courts, no tournament will be run t is semester, but plans are under way to boom tennis in the fall.

The Tennis Association has adopted the following rules governing the use of the courts and requests that all who desire to play cooperate in carefully observing them.

1. None but Association members are to use the courts. (Membership in the Association may be gained by paying to the treasurer, "Chick" Wright, the annual tax of 50 cents.)
2. Not more than two sets of doubles are to be played while other members are waiting.
3. Singles must give way to doubles upon the completion of the set in progress.
4. Every night those last using the court are to put the net in the box provided for that purpose.
5. Shoes without heels must be worn when playing on the courts.
6. It is understood that the lower court shall be at the disposal of the faculty members whenever they wish to play.
7. These rules will be strictly enforced.

The management requests that members do not use the courts when soft after a rain, because use at such times does the courts injury which it takes considerable time and effort to repair.

Shower to Miss Cady.

The members of the Sigma Kappa sorority gave an aluminum shower to Miss Cady, ex-'15, Saturday evening, at the home of Mrs. Dowd of New Haven Miss Cady is to be married tonight.

Campus Elections.

At a meeting held last week THE CAMPUS Board elected the following staff which will have charge of THE CAMPUS after this issue:

Editor-in-chief, James J. Floyd; assistant to editor-in-chief, Clara Barnum; business managers, Carroll Ross and Charles Wright; assistant business manager, W. C. P. Thomas; circulation manager, Vera Arnold. Assistant Dean Wiley has been appointed to succeed Prof. F. W. Cady on the executive committee.

In addition to those named, the new editor in consultation with the assistant editor, will appoint an alumni editor, athletic editor and student editor from each of the two colleges.

The best wishes of the members of the 1915 Board will be with their successors in their work of the coming year. A great deal of energy and effort will be required to keep the paper growing with the college, but we feel sure that under the guidance of those who have been chosen for the various offices, THE CAMPUS will blossom forth another season bigger, brighter and better than ever before.

MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

ESTABLISHED IN 1800

A BIRD'S-EYE VIEW OF THE CAMPUS AND BUILDINGS

The College is now prepared to furnish to alumni and students a beautiful photogravure of the campus and buildings, from a drawing by Mr. J. M. Meeker. The size is 10x20 1-2. The paper is Dutch hand-made plate, of weight sufficient to be framed unmounted. All of the newer buildings of the college are shown, including the Mead Memorial Chapel The picture is pronounced equal to any college bird's-eye view in impressiveness and beauty.

It is suggested that alumni may not only desire copies for themselves, but also for presentation to some high school.

1916 KALEIDOSCOPE

280 Pages 300 Photos

THE NEW KALEIDOSCOPE has made its appearance and is considered a wonder by students and faculty. Bound in a beautiful blue with the title and college seal in gold, it makes a handsome and fitting souvenir of Middlebury.

Some of the features are: A college rather than a class book; nearly 50 per cent. more pages and cuts than previous volumes, printed throughout in two colors, new photos of the faculty; beautiful photo of Dr. Mead to whom the book is dedicated, best drawings ever seen in a Middlebury annual, reviews of football, base ball, basket ball, tennis, and debating seasons illustrated with photos of the teams, captains, managers, coaches, etc.; the Old Middlebury and the New in a series of pictures, group photos of the classes, birdseye views of the college in 1850 and at the present time; necrology lists including photo and biographical sketch of the late Doctor Sherman, alumni section with photo of last New York Alumni banquet, complete Commencement section.

Send in your subscription of $2.50 at once and receive the finest souvenir of Middlebury obtainable.

ALUMNI NOTES.

'81. Rev. James L. Barton, D. D., a member of the Corporation, will represent Middlebury College at the inauguration of President H. C. Bumpus at Tufts College, June 12th.

'12. '13. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Lacy W. Bump, May 20, a daughter, Florence Elizabeth.

The University of Vermont is to be congratulated on securing the services of Walter H. Crockett as editor of University Publications. Mr. Crockett has proved himself an able editor and is one of the best known newspaper men in the State. Vermont has few men better informed as to her history and her present resources and industries. A man of high ideals and sterling Vermont patriotism, his services in his new position and as assistant in the State Publicity Bureau cannot fail to be of great benefit to Vermont.

ALBANY LAW SCHOOL

The course of study leading to the degree of L. L. B. extends over a period of three years. Students who have pursued one or two years in a law office may enter the second year class as a candidate for a diploma but not a degree.

The high standard of the school and the facilities which the city affords with its legislature, libraries and courts, offer unequalled opportunity for a thorough and practical training.
